ALLENTOWN, Lehigh County.

Is on the East Pennsylvania Branch of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, the Lehigh Valley and the Lehigh and Susquehanna Railroads. The Lehigh Coal Company's canal passes through the town. It is 59 miles from Philadelphia, 36 miles from Reading, and contains a population of about 24,000. The city is situated at the confluence of the Lehigh River with the Little Lehigh and Jordan Creek and is built upon an eminence in the midst of a very picturesque region. The Jordan runs through the northern part of the town. The eminence upon which the town is built commands an unusually beautiful prospect, sloping gradually to the river on the east, and to the creek on the north. It was laid out in 1762, and to-day presents a very substantial appearance. The streets run at right angles, and are broad and clean, adorned with shade trees and well lighted with gas and electric lights. Street railway cars run from the depots to the principal parts of the city.

Allentown has many advantages as a manufacturing town. Its situation in the midst of a rich agricultural district; its nearness to the valuable beds of iron ore, zinc, limestone, cement, &c.; its railroad and canal accommodations, and the peculiarly favorable sites for manufactories, all point to the cause of its present rapid growth and future prosperity. It contains numerous large rolling mills, furnaces, fire brick works, boiler shops, foundries and machine shops, steam forges, spike and brass works, woolen mills, silk mills, thread mills, planing mills, carriage and wagon factories, mowing machine works, sash factories, and other branches of manufacture. In addition to all this there is a very large wholesale and retail business done at the various stores. There are two national and one savings bank. The public buildings are among the finest in the State; the numerous public school buildings are large and commodious and stand unrivalled by any similar structures of the largest cities. There are three colleges located here, among which Muhlenberg College comes to the front in the preparation of young men for the higher stations in life. There are eleven papers published in this city. Allentown contains churches of twenty-five congregations, embracing a large number of sects.

The hotel accommodation of the city is first-class. Among them are the American, Eagle, Merchants' and Black Bear.

BETHLEHEM, also WEST BETHLEHEM, Northampton County,

(See also South Bethlehem.)

Is located on the north bank of the Lehigh river, 12 miles from Easton, the county seat, and 54 miles from Philadelphia. It was settled by the Moravians in 1741, and incorporated as a borough in 1844. The L. and S. Division and the L. and L. Branch (of the same division) of the C. R. R. of N. J. are the railroad facilities at West Bethlehem. The principal manufacturing interests are located in South Bethlehem, which lies just opposite on the other side of the river, the two places being connected by a substantial bridge. The population is about 7,000. There is one daily and four weekly newspapers published here, all of which are largely patronized.

CATAWISSA, Columbia County,

Has about 2,500 inhabitants, and is situated on the North Branch of the Susquehanna River, at the junction of the Catawissa Creek, and is on the Catawissa Branch of the Philadelphia and Reading R. R., the Lackawanna and Bloomsburg R. R., the Sunbury, Hazleton and Wilkes-Barre R. R., and the North and West Branch R. R., one hundred and forty-five miles north of Philadelphia, and fifty-four miles south of Williamsport. The shipping facilities are very superior, which fact is worthy the attention of manufacturers. It was settled about 1790, and contains six churches, a graded school, a bank, three hotels, flour mills, a paper mill, a planing mill, a foundry and an excellent newspaper, The Catawissa News Item. The Philadelphia and Reading R. R. also have their machine shops located here.

COLUMBIA, Lancaster County,

Is situated on the left bank of the Susquehanna river, on the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, eighty miles from Philadelphia, seventy from Baltimore, thirty from Harrisburg, and is the western terminus of the Reading and Columbia Branch of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, forty-five miles from Reading. Columbia was settled in 1726, and the town laid out in 1787 by Samuel Wright. In 1814 it was incorporated as a borough. There are good churches, the best of schools, several newspapers, steam engine and marbleized mantel works, and the various other branches of industry well represented. It is the principal depot of the lumber which is annually rafted down the Susquehanna river. Population, about 10,000.

DANVILLE, Montour County,

A borough of about 10,000 inhabitants, is situated on the North Branch of the Susquehanna River, and on the line of the Catawissa Branch of the P. and R. R. R., the Lack'a and Bloomsburg and the Danville, Hazelton and Wilkes-Barre Railroads—forty-four and a half miles from Williamsport, sixty-nine miles from Harrisburg, and 154½ miles from Philadelphia. The borough is the centre of one of the best iron mining districts in the State, and, having first-class facilities for transportation, has numerous large blast furnaces, rolling mills, foundries, &c. It contains two banks, two daily and four weekly newspapers, two insurance companies, several good hotels; of the hotels favorable mention must be made of the City Hotel, C. G. Rockefeller, proprietor, and of the Revere House, J. V. Gillaspy, proprietor. It is supplied with both water and gas. A State hospital for the insane is located here.

EPHRATA, Lancaster County,

Is located on the line of the Reading and Columbia Railroad, 19½ miles from Reading and 22 from Lancaster. The first white inhabitant was a hermit by the name of Elimlech. Shortly after 1715 Conrad Biessel, to escape religious persecution, retired to this place. Many who coincided with him in his religious opinions settled around him, and from this community has grown the village of Ephrata. The first place of worship was erected about 1723, and is still standing. The early history of Ephrata is remarkably interesting. Water was introduced in 1878. There is one foundry (Groff & Strohl's), flour and bark mills, one nursery, one newspaper, several good hotels, fine stores, coal, slate and brick yards, W. Z. Sener & Co., cigar manufacturers, &c. Population about 2,200.

HARRISBURG, Dauphin County.

The first white settlement at this place, the site of an Indian village called Peixtan, Pextang, or Paxton, was made about 1719, by an Englishman named John Harris, who, in 1733, obtained from the proprietaries of Pennsylvania a grant of three hundred acres of land near his residence, and purchased of other grantees five hundred acres adjoining.

In 1753 the Penns granted to his son, John Harris, jr., the right to establish a ferry across the Susquehanna at this point, and the place was long known as Harris' Ferry. Early in 1785 the town was laid out by William Maclay, son-in-law of John Harris, and it became the seat of justice of the new county taken from Lancaster and called Dauphin, after the French crown prince. The town also received, in honor of Louis XVI, the name of Louisburg, which it retained until 1791, when it was changed to Harrisburg, in honor of its memorable founder, John Harris. In the same year it was incorporated as a borough. In 1812 the seat of government was removed from Lancaster to Harrisburg. In 1860 it was incorporated as a city.

Harrisburg, the capital of Pennsylvania and of Dauphin county, is beautifully situated on the left bank of the Susquehanna river, one hundred and fifty miles from its mouth. It is surrounded by magnificent scenery and fertile land; and time has demonstrated that the location is a remarkably healthy one. The city is supplied with water from the Susquehanna river. The county court house was erected in 1785. The county prison in 1841. Gas was introduced in 1850. The State insane asylum, north of the city, was first opened in 1851, and will accommodate three hundred patients comfortably.

The capitol, finely situated on an eminence near the heart of the city, was occupied for the first time January 28, 1822.

The State Arsenal is situated in a grove near the new reservoir, east of the city limits.

The National Government has erected a new post office and revenue building, which contributes largely to the public convenience.

The City Hospital, corner of Front and Mulberry, is a tangible evidence of the humane and benevolent disposition of its citizens. It was dedicated early in 1873.

Harrisburg is situated on the Main Line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, 106 miles from Philadelphia, and 248 from Pittsburg; 59 miles from Auburn, on the Schuylkill and Susquehanna Railroad; 74 miles from Hagerstown, on the Cumberland Valley Railroad; 85 miles from Baltimore on the Northern Central Railway; and 54 miles from Reading on the Lebanon Valley Railroad. Its great railroad facilities for travel and freight, together with the Susquehanna river passing on the west, and the Pennsylvania Canal running through it on the east, and the vicinity of the city to large beds of coal and iron ore, give it an almost unequaled position for trade and manufactures of every description. It has five enterprising daily, and a number of weekly newspapers, several banks, many fine church edifices, excellent school buildings, and numerous fine private residences. There are also extensive furnaces, foundries, rolling mills, machine shops, car works, breweries, flour mills, saw and planing mills, and establishments for the manufacture of glue, carriages, boilers, nails, hardware, brick, burr millstones, leather belting, hose, files, rasps, tiles, brooms, furniture, etc., etc.

In newspapers, the Harrisburg Telegraph, published by the Harrisburg Publishing Company, the Patriot, published by the Patriot Publishing Company, Daily Independent, published by E. Z. Wallower, the Morning Call, published by the Call Publishing Company, and the Evening Star, published by John Robertson, are the five leading daily papers. They are highly respectable and influential journals, and are conducted with very marked ability.

The Chesapeake Nail Works of Charles L. Bailey & Co. have established an excellent reputation for their productions, as an ever increasing demand amply testifies.

The Central Iron Works, manufacturers of every description of boiler and tank irons, the best flange, extra flange and solid fire box for locomotive and marine boilers.

The Keystone Electric Works, S. W. Entrekin, proprietor, has had many years' experience and is thoroughly practical.

The Hydraulic Cement Pipe Works of G. Irwin and Henry J. Beatty, manufacturers of patent artificial stone, drain, sewer, well, culvert, blow and chimney pipes. It is claimed that their "pipe will last as long as the earth in which it is laid."

The printing establishment of E. K. Meyers, State printer, is one of the largest in the State, and has facilities for turning out all descriptions of work, also bookbinding, electrotyping, lithographing, etc.

The Harrisburg Provision Company, George C. Bonbright, manager, pork packers and curers of the famous "Westphalia" and "Royal" brands of hams, etc.

Among others we must not forget the popular brewer, Mr. Henry Fink.

The drugs and medicines purchased from D. W. Gross & Son can always be relied upon as being pure and fresh.

READY-MADE CLOTHING in great variety, {Satisfaction / Guaranteed,} at D. A. SMITH'S, No. 115 SOUTH CENTRE STREET, POTTSVILLE, PA.

The book and stationery interests of Central Pennsylvania are well taken care of by Mr. S. W. Fleming. The house of which he has charge was started as a small retail store more than a score of years ago. The business has been continually growing until the room required for carrying it on is about four times the original dimensions. No bookstore of Central Pennsylvania carries a larger variety of well selected books. Thousands of the cheap pocket libraries are sent by mail to dealers as well as consumers all over Central Pennsylvania. They have learned that Harrisburg is the best distributing point for this territory. Orders from nearly all this district are filled the day on which the order is mailed. One and frequently two days are gained in time over orders sent to the Eastern cities.

But it were vain to attempt to speak of all the enterprising, deserving business men of the place engaged in all the departments of trade and industry. The entire city is a hive of industry, with a community of over 42,000 souls.

LANCASTER, Lancaster County,

Is situated on the Pennsylvania Railroad, 69 miles from Philadelphia, 37 miles from Harrisburg, 12 miles from Columbia, via the Pennsylvania Railroad, and 42 miles from Reading, on the Reading and Columbia Branch of the P. and R. R. R. This branch extends to Quarryville, distant from Lancaster, 15¼ miles, and is known as the Lancaster and Quarryville Branch of the P. and R. R. R. Lancaster was founded about 1718, and for some years was called Hickory Town. On the organization of the county, in 1729, it took its present name, and became the county seat. In 1742 it was chartered as a borough, and incorporated as a city in 1818. In 1777 Congress sat here for a few days, in the building now used as a postoffice, situated at corner of Penn square and West King street. A street railway connects Lancaster with Millersville, distant 4 miles. The present population of the city is about 33,000. The church and school facilities are unsurpassed, and the manufacturing interests are extensive and varied, consisting of cotton mills, woolen mills, dyeing establishments, organ factory, watch factory, large foundry and machine shops, breweries, lock works, hub, spoke, and felloe works, cigar box factories, rifle and edge tool works, sash and door factories, planing mills, soap and glue works, tanneries, brick yards, bolt and boiler works, carriage factories, etc. The Conestoga Cork Works of Arnold & Co., founded 1860, manufacturers of all kinds of machine cut corks. Their corks were awarded the first premium at the great Centennial for uniformity and quality.

Prominent among the agricultural interests is the culture of tobacco. For the purpose of packing and shipping the leaf large warehouses are erected in all parts of the city.

Lancaster supports four daily, eight weekly, and five monthly newspapers. From 1799 to 1812 it was the Capitol of the State, and from 1750 to 1825 was the largest inland city in the United States.

LEBANON CITY,

The county seat of Lebanon county, has a population of about 13,000, and is on the Lebanon Valley Branch of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, 25½ miles from Harrisburg, and 28½ from Reading. The Lebanon and Tremont Railroad also connects here with the Lebanon Valley. It is also the terminus of the C. and L. R. R. It was laid out in the year 1750 by George Steitz, after whom the town was called Steitztown, until the formation of Lebanon county in 1813 when the name was changed to Lebanon. Its progress until the completion of the railroad was slow, but from that time manufacturing establishments sprung up on all sides. The county abounds in rich deposits of iron ore and lime stone, the Cornwall Iron Mountain, a few miles from Lebanon, being composed of almost pure iron. There are numerous large furnaces in and around Lebanon, the Lebanon Furnace being the largest, which manufactures an immense amount of pig iron. It also contains foundries and machine shops, boiler works, an organ manufactory, 3 planing mills, agricultural implement works, 4 banks, 12 churches, 2 daily and several weekly newspapers, a number of fine hotels, and has both water and gas works.

LITITZ, Lancaster County,

Is situated on the line of the Reading and Columbia Railroad, twenty-seven miles from Reading, sixteen from Columbia, and by rail fifteen miles from Lancaster. It was settled in 1742 by two Germans by the names of Jacob Huber and George Klein, the latter of whom being a convert to the Moravian faith, donated his entire farm of 500 acres to the church. The first place of worship was erected in 1749, and the town laid out by the church in 1756. The history of Lititz and its institutions is remarkably interesting and well worthy of perusal. The famous Lititz spring is located here. It has but one fountain and is one of the largest springs in the United States. Lititz has one bank, planing mill, coach works, cigar factories, flour mill, two newspapers, three hotels, good schools and fine churches. The soil is productive, scenery grand and location remarkably healthy. Population about 1,700.

MAHANOY CITY, Schuylkill County,

Is on the line of the Mahanoy and Shamokin Branch of the P. and R. R. R., 11 miles from Tamaqua and 29 miles from Shamokin. The Mahanoy Branch of the Lehigh Valley Railroad terminates here, it being 35 miles from Mauch Chunk and 81 miles from Easton. The town was first settled in 1860, laid out in 1861, and incorporated as a borough in 1864. Water was introduced in 1866 and gas works built in 1875. There is now a population in the borough of 8,000. It is the centre of the Mahanoy Anthracite Coal Fields, from whence comes its chief support. There are in the borough 12 churches and places of public worship, 3 large public school buildings, a number of good hotels, a bank, 2 well conducted newspapers, foundry and machine works, &c.

MAHANOY PLANE, Schuylkill County,

A thriving village on the Mahanoy and Shamokin Branch of the P. and R. R. R., seventeen miles from Tamaqua and twenty-six miles from Shamokin. Population about 1,800. The Shamokin Branch also terminates here. It is a coal town of some importance, and derives its name from the inclined plane of the P. and R. R. R. Co., by which care are hoisted over the mountain, making connection at Frackville.

MANHEIM, Lancaster County,

Is situated on the Reading and Columbia Railroad, thirty-two miles from Reading, and thirteen and a half from Columbia. The first white settlement, of which there is any authentic account, was made in 1760 or 1761, by an old German, by the name of Baron Wilhelm Heinrich Stiegel. In 1762 Manheim contained but three houses, the first of which, on South Prussian street below Ferdinand, is still standing. The industrial interests are well represented. There are two banks, six churches, fine school building, planing mill, two flour mills, one foundry, and one enterprising newspaper. The town is surrounded by a remarkably fertile agricultural district. Population about 1,900.

MINERSVILLE, Schuylkill County,

A town of nearly 3,500 inhabitants on the Mine Hill and Schuylkill Haven Branch of the P. and R. R. R., eight and a half miles from Schuylkill Haven, and connected with Pottsville, four miles distant, by the People's Railway. It is situated in the midst of a rich Anthracite coal field, from whence it derives its chief support. Minersville was settled about 1829, and incorporated as a borough in 1841. The first machine in Schuylkill County, for breaking coal, was erected here in 1830. The town contains a flourishing and well conducted newspaper, The Free Press, published by Charles E. Steel, large foundry and machine works, wire screen manufactories, marble works, brewery, &c.

NORRISTOWN,

The county seat of Montgomery County, on the north bank of the Schuylkill river, and the western terminus of the Germantown and Norristown Branch of the P. and R. R. R., is connected to Bridgeport, on the Main Line of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, seventeen miles from Philadelphia, by a large and substantial bridge across the Schuylkill. It is also on the line of the Schuylkill Division of the Penna. R. R., seventeen miles from Philadelphia, and 41 miles from Reading. It has a population of about 18,000, and contains seven newspapers, among which the Daily Herald, Daily Times and Daily Register take rank with any daily papers published in cities of equal size in the State; eighteen churches, three banks and numerous manufacturing establishments, among others cotton and wool mills, coal oil refineries, foundries and machine works, extensive glass works, flour mills, carriage works, planing mill, soap and candle works, tack works, street cars, gas and electric light companies, fire alarm telegraph, Board of Trade, &c. Among its industries is the Norristown Hosiery Co., under the efficient management of Col. D. M. Yost. The education of the youth of the city is well provided for by the excellent public schools, which deserve special mention, a seminary and several academies. It has several excellent hotels, none of which surpass in comfort and courteous attention to guests the Farmers' and Mechanics', of which Frank S. Moyer is proprietor. Public hall and the court house and jail, which are elegant buildings and reflect great credit on the enterprise of the citizens of the county. A State Hospital for the insane is located here.

ORWIGSBURG, Schuylkill County,

Is a flourishing borough of about 1,000 inhabitants, located in Manheim township, eight miles east of Pottsville, and is reached by the Main Line of the P. and R. R. R. to Landingville, thence by stage three miles north. It was settled in 1795, by Peter Orwig. In 1811, when Schuylkill County was erected out of Berks County, it was settled as the county seat, which was removed to Pottsville in 1849, and the old court house is now used as a shoe factory. The town supports three churches, one graded school, and five hotels. The principal industry of the town is the manufacture of shoes.

PHŒNIXVILLE, Chester County,

Is on the Main Line of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, also on the Schuylkill Valley Div. of the Penna. Railroad, 27½ miles from Philadelphia and 65½ miles from Pottsville, and is the terminus of the Pickering Valley Branch of the P. and R. R. R. It lies on the west bank of the Schuylkill river at its confluence with French creek, and is surrounded by rich land and beautiful scenery. It is a manufacturing town of no small importance, containing about 8,000 inhabitants, and has extensive furnaces, rolling mills, pottery, copper furnaces, the largest iron bridge works in the country, also works of Griffen, Smith & Co., manufacturers of majolica, stone, porcelain, ivory ware, etc., of every description. Joseph Fitzwater & Son are contractors for drilling artesian wells, etc. It has also a planing mill, flour mills, etc. It has also a gas company, one daily and two weekly newspapers, large public and select schools, nine churches, two banks, two large public halls, market house, public park, library, building associations, etc. There are three passenger stations, affording convenient access to all parts of the borough. The water works are on an extensive scale, the basin being situated on an eminence 190 feet above the river, affording a splendid view of the river and country around, and sufficiently high to force the water far above the highest houses, affording ample protection from fire.

POTTSTOWN, Montgomery County,

On the Main Line of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, 40 miles from Philadelphia, and 53 miles from Pottsville; is also the terminus of the Colebrookdale Branch of the P. and R. R. R., and has a population of about 12,000. The town was laid out by John Potts in 1752. It is delightfully situated on the banks of the Schuylkill river, and possesses decided advantages for either manufacturing sites or private residences. It is a manufacturing town of no small importance, containing iron works, planing mills, carriage works, foundry and machine works, flour mills, marble works, brick manufactories, &c., together with a seminary, two banks, two flourishing daily and two weekly newspapers, gas and water company, churches of almost all denominations, good hotels, elegant private residences, &c.

POTTSVILLE,

The county seat of Schuylkill County, is located at the northern terminus of the Main Line of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, also on the Schuylkill Division of the Penna. R. R., 93 miles from Philadelphia. It is, via the Schuylkill and Susquehanna Branch, 69 miles from Harrisburg. The Mill Creek and Mt. Carbon and Mountain Link and Schuylkill Valley Branches also terminate here. It is 17½ miles from Tamaqua and 118½ miles from Williamsport. The People's Street Railway connects it with Minersville, 4 miles distant. It is situated in a valley at the junction of the Norwegian creek with the Schuylkill river, and is surrounded on all sides by towering mountains. The scenery is not excelled by any in this section of the State. About the year 1795, Lewis Reese and Isaac Thomas settled north of the "Schneid Berg," Sharp Mountain, in what was called the Schuylkill Gap, where they purchased land and erected a small furnace, which they carried on till 1806, when they sold it to John Pott, who, in the following year, tore it down and erected the Greenwood Forge and Furnace. The growth, other than the natural increase of this section, was slow, until 1816, when Pottsville was laid out by John Pott. About this time there were quite a number of coal veins discovered in the immediate vicinity of Pottsville, but a lack of transportation, difficulty in overcoming the prejudices of the Philadelphia people, to whom coal was first sent for trial, &c., prevented for some time the profitable mining of it. From 1824 the growth of the town was unprecedentedly rapid, for in 1825 we hear of the erection of rows of buildings, stores and hotels, a reading room, establishment of the Miners' Journal, &c. From that time until now it steadily continued to increase, and has at present (including its circumjacent) a population of 18,000. It was incorporated as a borough in 1828, and in 1850 the county seat was removed here from Orwigsburg. The court house and jail, which are large and commodious buildings, situated on an eminence overlooking the town, having been then contracted for and finished. It is the business centre of the Anthracite Coal Region, and its location on the different railroads gives it great advantages as a manufacturing town. There are located here extensive rolling mills, large furnaces, several capacious foundries and machine works, planing mills, soap factories, carriage manufactories, three breweries, two pork and beef packing establishments, shirt factory, marble works, together with pottery, spike and bolt, flour and feed, brush, boiler, and other manufacturing establishments. There are also three English and two German weekly and three daily newspapers, banks, insurance companies, a business college, gas, water, electric light companies, a street railway running through the principal portions of the town and there is a large silk mill which is expected to be completed here in a few months. The town is very favorably located as a business place, and contains mercantile houses that rival those of Philadelphia and New York.

Among the prominent industries of the place is the machine works of F. B. Bannan, whose noiseless steam engines and direct radiation steam apparatus are winning their way, through their superiority, to the very front rank. The large pork and beef packing house of Jacob Ulmer, with a capacity of slaughtering and curing 250 hogs per day and a car load of cattle, is one of the best houses in the State. D. A. Smith and George F. Eckenrode, the fashionable merchant tailors and clothiers, are always alive to the times, securing all the latest styles and fabrics upon their appearance in New York and Philadelphia markets. The Eagle Brewery of D. G. Yuengling & Son, whose establishment must be seen in order to conceive an idea of its capacity, receive orders for ale, beer and porter, for which they are justly celebrated, from all quarters of the country. The well conducted daily and weekly Republican, published by J. H. Zerbey; also book and job printing done in the finest style. Parties in want of flour, feed, grain or hay, would further their own interests by visiting the warehouse of R. Whitfield, whose facilities are second to none, and who sells as low as the market affords. The lovers of the beautiful can enjoy a rare treat by visiting the green houses of James M. Madison & Co. Among the many attractions to the visitor, or in fact to the denizen, is the picturesque scenery by which it is surrounded, affording delightful drives by which the handsome equipages from the livery of M. P. Walker render increased pleasure.

Another extensive brewing establishment is Charles Rettig's, where you can rely on having all orders for lager, ale or porter promptly filled.

The Miners' Journal Printing Establishment is one of the largest in the State, and has facilities for turning out all descriptions of work. Connected with the establishment is a Book Bindery, also the Daily and Weekly Miners' Journal.

The Evening Chronicle, a bright, newsy afternoon paper, is published by the Standard Publishing Co., who also issue the Pottsville Weekly Standard, the recognized Democratic organ of the county. Equipped with every convenience, this establishment is turning out first-class work from its book and job printing and book binding departments.

DIRECTORY PUBLISHER.

HOME OFFICE, - READING, PA.

READING,

The county seat of Berks County, is situated on the east bank of the Schuylkill river, in one of the most fertile sections of the State, and being the centre of a number of railroads and but a short distance from large deposits of iron ore, limestone, and coal, possesses unusual facilities for manufacturing establishments of all descriptions, and these advantages being so apparent, have made Reading one of the most progressive cities in the country, its growth for the last quarter of a century having been almost incredible. It is on the Main Lines of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad and the Penna. Schuylkill Valley Railroad, fifty-eight miles from Philadelphia, and thirty-five miles from Pottsville; the Lebanon Valley, fifty-four miles from Harrisburg; East Pennsylvania, thirty-six miles from Allentown, and the Reading and Columbia, forty-five and a half miles from Columbia, branches of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad. The Wilmington and Northern Railroad terminates here, Wilmington being seventy-two miles distant, and it is also the terminus of the Reading and Lehigh Railroad, and is forty-three miles form Slatington. The Schuylkill Canal also passes the city.

As early as 1733 John and Samuel Finney took out warrants, and in 1748 four hundred and fifty acres of land were surveyed with their sanctions, and what is now Reading was laid out by Thomas and Richard Penn. It was incorporated as a borough in 1783, and as a city in 1847. The original settlers were Germans from Wurtemberg and the Palatinate, though the Friends were largely represented and administered the government. The first house of worship was erected by the Friends in 1750 and was of logs. In 1766 it was torn down and built on Washington street, below 5th, where it remained till some 15 years ago, when it was torn down and the present stone structure erected. Like most primitive towns of the State, Reading is indebted for its name to the native country of the Penns, it being named after Reading, in Berkshire, England. In 1750 Reading had only one house, but two years later, when the people of Readingtown petioned the General Assembly to erect a separate county out of the counties of Philadelphia, Chester and Lancaster, it contained one hundred and thirty dwelling houses, besides forty-one stables and other out-houses, and there were one hundred and six families, consisting of three hundred and seventy-eight persons. Their petition was granted, and March 11, 1752, the county of Berks was erected. In 1769 it was estimated that Reading contained 1,200 inhabitants, and since which time the increase has been steady and rapid, for the census of 1810 gives a population of 3,462; that of 1820, 4,273; 1830, 5,631; and in 1840, 8,832; but upon the census being taken in 1850 it showed that Reading had nearly doubled itself, there being at the time 15,743 inhabitants within its limits. It has increased in the same ratio ever since, for in 1860 the census gave a population of 23,161, that of 1870, 33,930; the census taken by Boyd's Directory Corps in 1873 showed a population of 38,148, while the U. S. census of 1880 placed the population 43,278 and it is now not less than 60,000.

Reading is regularly laid out and has wide and level streets, and many elegant public and private buildings, the new depots of Philadelphia and Reading Reading Railroad and the Pennsylvania Schuylkill Valley Railroad being especially prominent from their size and beautiful proportions. Four street railway companies run their lines through the principal thoroughfares of the city, and a fire alarm telegraph, one of the first in the State, together with an unusually efficient fire department, effectually provide for the extinguishment of conflagrations. It has a full supply of both gas, and electric lights, steam heat and water. There are in the city manufacturing establishments of almost all kinds, those of iron in its different forms, however, predominating, there being blast furnaces, rolling mills, sheet and boiler plate iron mills, nail mills, foundries and machine shops, hardware manufacturers, stove works, iron pipe works, bolt and nut works, boiler works, etc. The principal shops and the rolling mills of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad are located here, and they employ a great number of men in the manufacture of railroad iron, locomotive engines, passenger, freight, coal, and other cars, etc. There are also large fire brick and terra cotta works, boat builders, brass founders, brick manufacturers, car builders, carriage factories, metallic cornicemakers, silk mill, furniture manufacturers, planing mills, wool hat manufacturers, tanneries, paint manufacturers, agricultural implements, refrigerator manufacturers, and many others.

It contains churches of almost all denominations, some of them being splendid specimens of architecture. There are a number of spacious market houses, the markets being second to none, and reflect great credit upon the city and county for their cleanliness, variety and quality of the different edibles displayed in them.

There are also two large and beautiful opera houses, a number of first-class hotels, wholesale and retail mercantile establishments of immense proportions, and in fact almost every branch of business found in the largest city is represented here, making Reading, what the most casual observer cannot fail to see, one of the most flourishing cities in the country.

The Charles Evans Cemetery, in the northwestern part of the city, adorned with costly monuments, beautiful shrubbery and trees, was founded by Charles Evans, who, in 1846, conveyed to a board of trustees twenty-five acres of ground, and at different times sums of money, amounting in the aggregate with the cost of the land, to $84,000, "a benefaction to a single object of public utility so great as to have been exceeded but in few instances, it is believed, in Pennsylvania." Since the death of Mr. Evans the area of the grounds has been increased by the purchase of twenty-eight acres adjoining, making it at once, with an imposing Gothic gateway, a towering chapel and beautiful residence for the superintendent, one of the largest and most universally admired "cities of the dead."

Where so many enterprising firms are engaged in their different pursuits it is difficult to discriminate, but we cannot allow this opportunity to pass without saying a passing word for a few of those that have done so much to bring Reading up to its present status.

Prominent among these is the Reading Stove Works, Orr, Painter & Co., manufacturers of stoves, heaters, ranges, hollow ware, etc., which is composed of practical mechanics, who devote their entire attention to the production of first-class wares, and being alive to the interests of their patrons, are continually turning out new and useful designs, which for beauty and utility are surpassed by none and equaled by few of their competitors.

The oldest fire brick works in this section of the country is the Reading Fire Brick Works of McHose & Co., established in 1845, is under the present management for 30 years. Their reputation as first-class manufacturers of this article is well established. Their large product finds a ready sale among the numerous iron works in the eastern section of the State.

The citizens of Reading need not leave their own city in quest of factories where lumber is more neatly or substantially made in its various manufactured forms, for at the mills of Kline & Shunk and Gasser & Johnson they can be fully suited if anywhere, they being fully prepared to manufacture any style or quantity of sash, blinds, doors, frames, etc.

W. P. Deppen, whose productions find market throughout almost the whole country, has an extensive brewery located in the city, and continues to sustain the reputation of the superiority of Reading lager beer.

At George W. Hughes' and Isaac W. Keim's extensive wine and liquor warerooms, a large assortment of pure wines and liquors can be purchased by landlords and others, at prices that defy competition.

W. F. Remppis, manufacturer of wrought iron railings and wrought iron furniture of every description; also cellar grates, window guards, folding chairs, settees, tables and ornamental work.

Among the many first-class hotels that Reading can boast of is the Mansion House, M. S. Weiler, proprietor, which still maintains the high character for which it has been noted for so many years.

The Central House, John B. Brobst, proprietor, lately enlarged and renovated, and having all the modern improvements, has become a great favorite of the travelling public.

The Berks County House, F. P. Esterly, proprietor, is one of the most widely known and popular hotels in the city.

B. F. Ruth & Co. manufacture pure linseed oil paints, that are ready to apply on houses, barns, etc.; also permanent wood stains for imitating fancy woods. "Calxine," a strictly sanitary coating for all interior surfaces, can be had in fifteen beautiful tints. They also manufacture house, bridge, car and room paints, wood stains, wood fillers, iron fillers, varnishes, japans, putty, etc.

There is nothing more worthy of the laudable pride of the people of Reading than the newspapers published in the city. There being five well supported and ably conducted daily, four English and one German, and four English and six German weekly newspapers. The Daily Eagle, a newsy afternoon paper, is published by J. G. Hawley. It has a large circulation, and, receiving as it does the latest telegraphic news, and being ably edited by talented writers in every department, is one of the features of the city. The Reading Weekly Eagle is also published by Mr. Hawley.

The Daily Times and Dispatch, published by J. Knabb & Co., a wide-awake morning paper, is the oldest daily published in the city, and one of the most widely circulated of any inland daily in the State. It contains all the latest news of the day, receiving the dispatches of the Associated Press, and having attached to it a corps of editors of superior literary attainments, is deservedly popular. The Times job printing establishment turns out job work of all descriptions. The Berks and Schuylkill Journal, published by the same firm, is a first-class family newspaper.

W. Rosenthal, the publisher and proprietor of the Reading Post, the only German daily published in Berks County, also issues from his office the Banner Von Berks, a family weekly,

The Biene, a Sunday paper, and Die Deutche Eiche, a weekly literary paper, the organ of the German Order of Harugari, are all attractive German papers with large subscription lists.

The Reading Adler, the oldest German newspaper in the United States, and the Weekly News are published by Mr. Ritter.

The Evening Telegram, published by the Telegram Publishing Company, limited, is an ably conducted afternoon paper, and is firmly established in public favor. Capt. Jacob Weidel, editor.

John B. Dampman, publisher of the Daily and Weekly Herald, has, through his enterprise and energy, gained for his publications large circulations which, through his zeal, are rapidly increasing.

SHAMOKIN, Northumberland County,

A flourishing town on the Mahanoy and Shamokin Branch of the P. and R. R. R., 132½ miles from Philadelphia, and on the Northern Central Railroad, 66 miles from Harrisburg. It is an old town, the first railroad being located here in 1837; but there was little or no advance made until about fifteen years back, since which time it has improved greatly, and now has a population of about 12,000. It was incorporated as a borough in 1863, and is now well supplied with both gas, electric light and water. The coal mines, from which its chief support is derived, a number of which are located within the limits of the town, and the railroads, the depots of which are situated in the centre of the borough, give it a very busy appearance. There is a large foundry and machine shop in the place, the Shamokin Iron Works, John Mullen, proprietor, which does an extensive business, and has facilities for the manufacture of all kinds of machinery, castings, etc. There are also thirteen churches, eight hotels, two banks, one daily and three live weekly newspapers, etc.

SHENANDOAH, Schuylkill County,

On the Shenandoah Branch of the P. and R. R. R., and is, via Frackville, 14 miles from Pottsville. The Mahanoy Division of the Lehigh Valley Railroad also passes through the town, its distance from Mauch Chunk being 18 miles and 105 miles from Philadelphia. It is at the foot of Mahanoy Mountain, which originally formed the northwestern boundary of Schuylkill County, and is a new settlement, it being laid out in 1860, previous to which time there was only one house, a tavern stand, which is still standing. It was incorporated as a borough in 1866, and now has a population of about 14,000. The principal business is coal mining, it being surrounded with collieries, there being a number located in and around the town. It has gas and water companies, electric light, a bank, two daily and four weekly newspapers.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Northampton County,

(See also Bethlehem, also West Bethlehem.)

Is located on the south bank of the Lehigh river, also on the L. V. R. R. and N. P. Branch of P. and R. R. R., 54 miles from Philadelphia and 12 miles from Easton, the county seat. South Bethlehem, with its surroundings, has a population of between 9,000 and 10,000. The Lehigh University, with an endowment from Asa Packer, for it and its library, of about $2,000,000, is located here. The Bethlehem Iron Co., employing from 2,500 to 3,000 hands, together with two brass foundries, zinc works, boiler works, planing mill, shovel and platform gear works constitute the leading manufactories of South Bethlehem. There are also here six churches, a number of hotels, among which the Mansion House and Lapierre Hotel take the lead. One bank, one brewery, and one daily newspaper, called the Daily Star, Grim & Harlacher, proprietors, whose large subscription and advertising lists show their efforts have been duly appreciated.

ST. CLAIR,

On the line of the Mill Creek and Mt. Carbon Branch of the P. and R. R. R., 5½ miles from Pottsville, was settled in 1840, and now contains a population of about 4,300. It is situated on Mill Creek, and is about the centre of the Southern Anthracite Coal Basin. The manufactory of the Miners' Supply Co. is located here. Daddow & Beadle's Safety Squibs, of which they are the sole manufacturers, have a national reputation, and have been the means of saving thousands of lives.

WILLIAMSPORT,

The county seat of Lycoming County, is the northern terminus of the Catawissa Branch of the P. and R. R. R., 199 miles from Philadelphia, and on the line of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, 95 miles from Harrisburg, and on the Northern Central Railway, 78 miles from Elmira. The West Branch Canal also runs through the city. It is delightfully situated on the West Branch of the Susquehanna River, and is a beautiful and flourishing place, regularly laid out in squares and possesses rare attractions. The city has great claims to architectural beauty, containing many public and private buildings that are not surpassed by those of any inland city in the State. It is the centre of an immense lumbering trade, the manufacture of which forms its chief business, there being manufactured here everything from match sticks to immense beams and girders, while the numerous planing mills are always ready to fill orders for any and all kinds of finished lumber. Saw and planing mills line the banks of the river for miles above and below the city, the busy hum of the machinery giving evidence of its thrift and manufacturing importance. It has, within the last few years, grown very rapidly, and contains (including its circumjacent) a population at present of about 31,000. The principal streets are wide and level, affording delightful drives. It has an effective paid fire department the inflammable nature of the wood rendering it necessary to use extra precaution in this direction. The city was incorporated in 1866.

Although it were almost vain to attempt to particularize individual enterprise, we cannot but note a few of the most prominent in the array of energetic and reliable firms of the city.

The machine works and foundry of the Valley Iron Works, W. P. Riley, superintendent, whose automatic steam engines and boilers are so favorably known that commendation here is unnecessary.

Williams & Foresman are recognized as one of the leading lumber firms of the country, as their large and increasing business amply testifies. Charles Scheffel, largely engaged in the some business, is widely known as a thorough business man.

Williamsport can boast of having as good hotels as any city in the State, foremost among which are the City Hotel, Henry T. Sallade, proprietor, the most centrally located in the city, and the popular Hepburn House, D. Updegraff, proprietor. An institution in which the citizens feel a commendable pride is the Dickinson Seminary, established in 1847. Beautifully located, with large and commodious buildings, and an able faculty of experienced instructors, it takes a prominent position among the leading educational establishments of the country. The lovers of the beautiful can gratify their tastes by a visit to the nurseries of the Evenden Bros., whose skill in floriculture is unexcelled. The West Branch Boiler Works of E. W. Keeler is one of the leading industrial establishments of the city, and the boilers, stacks, tanks, etc., manufactured by them are shipped to all sections of the country. Those who want to hire a good and nobby team can always suit themselves at the livery of D. R. P. Rissel, whose turnouts are first-class. The Daily Gazette and Bulletin, a live journal with a large circulation through, and the recognized authority of, the Pennsylvania lumber region, has weathered the storms, while many have lived their short lives only to go down, and is now one of the newsiest and most successful inland papers in the State. Daily and Weekly Sun and Banner, published by the Sun and Banner Publishing Co., have won for themselves a reputation as being most reliable and wide-awake journals and enjoy large patronage. The Lycoming Recorder, Sunday Grit, Labor Record, Sunday Breakfast Table, the Weekly Gazette and Bulletin, English weeklies, and the Susquehanna Zeitung and the West Branch Beobachter, German weeklies, are newspapers enjoying extended circulations throughout the State, and are journals that are a credit to the city in which the are published.
